this website is a social videoplatform (user generated content) about bahai's and depends on the help of the community to grow.

bahais all over the world can share recordings from their local activities or interesting speeches.

registered users can upload videos or add videos from popular videosites by copying the videolink on this website.

if you have recorded a video (for example a speech or music) and you want to share it with the community, you can use this website.

please feel free to give comments and ratings for each video...
